Ensure benefits are the focus of investments with our Managing Benefits certification

The reason organizations invest in change is to realize benefits.

Despite this, reports from professional bodies, audit agencies and academic research show that organizations in the public, private and third sectors still struggle to demonstrate return on investments.

The significance of this is even greater in a volatile economic climate where the failure to optimize benefits realization may put future initiatives at risk as investors lose confidence in the organization’s ability to successfully manage change.

Our Managing Benefits guidance and qualification scheme aims to help address this problem, building on existing best practices in portfolio, programme and project management.

Managing Benefits provides:

■ An overview of benefits management - what it is, the case for doing it, and some common misconceptions that can limit its effectiveness in practice.

■ Descriptions of the seven principles upon which successful approaches to benefits management are built, and examples of how they can be/have been applied in practice.

■ Guidance on how to apply benefits management at a portfolio level, as well as at an individual project or programme level.
