

THE VALUE OF ACCREDITED TRAINING

Quality. Excellence. Recognition.

Become an ISACA® Accredited Training Partner

ISACA training courses, certificates and certifications are globally accepted and recognized, proving to employers that a candidate has what it takes to add value to their enterprise. Many organizations and governmental agencies around the world require or recognize ISACA's certifications.

ISACA partners with select training organizations globally through its Accredited Training Partner Program to ensure that training organizations and trainers deliver the most compelling and relevant educational experience available.

ISACA Accredited Training Partners offer greater value to their candidates because third party accreditation differentiates your organization in the marketplace from other training options, and you can be confident in the quality of the curriculum and support. ISACA has partnered with APMG to create an Accredited Training Program to elevate training experiences and outcomes.

Why choose an accredited training partner?

Third party accreditation gives your training organization the confidence that the training is of the highest quality, and the coursework and certification exam have been rigorously reviewed by outside assessors and conform to international standards (provided by ANSI, the American National Standards Institute). It confirms the competence of the instruction, the integrity of the intellectual property, and reputation of your organization.

Discover the benefits of a partnership with ISACA

In addition to helping you deliver the most relevant and up-to-date educational experience and training, an ISACA Accredited Training Partner will also enjoy:

- Recognition as a valued partner that can be leveraged across your marketing assets
- Cross-promotion of your training organization on ISACA.org
- Access to robust our Channel Partner Resource Center, our sales and marketing support portal, with access to online ordering and marketing assets, including customizable assets
- Opportunity for volume discounts and access to marketing development funds to support your marketing efforts
- Dedicated account advisor

Why do candidates choose ISACA training?

Independent studies consistently rate ISACA's designations among the highest paying IT and impactful certifications that an IT professional can earn. For a candidate, earning and maintaining an ISACA certification:

- Boosts earning potential
- Counts in the hiring process
- Enhances professional credibility and recognition

In fact, globally across all certification levels, the average salary for ISACA-certified professionals is 44% greater than for peers certified elsewhere, according to the 2018 IT Skills and Salary survey.

"The cyber security talent shortage is expanding every day. This translates into a greater need for IT professionals to have the skills and credentials to combat tomorrow's information security threats and breaches. As an ISACA Elite Official Training Organization, Learning Tree offers certification training courses such as the valuable CISM, CISA, and CGEIT, in addition to ISACA's entire certification training portfolio. We value our partnership with ISACA and look forward to future collaboration in order to meet the needs of the cyber community."

Richard A. Spires, CEO, Learning Tree
International

The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) has accredited the CISA, CRISC, CISM and CGEIT certification programs under ISO/IEC 17024:2012, General Requirements for Bodies Operating Certification Systems of Persons. ANSI, a private, nonprofit organization, accredits other organizations to serve as third-party product, system and personnel certifiers. ISACA is proud to be recognized with this international standard of performance.
